To Our Valued Business Partners:

Felker Brothers Corporation is closely monitoring the rapidly evolving and complex Coronavirus (COVID-19) situation. Our Company is continuing to operate, with health and safety as our primary point of emphasis. We are carefully following all federal, state, and local guidelines on workplace safety and cleanliness, and will continue to comply with all directives, including but not limited to all recommended hygiene, social distancing, and workplace cleanliness protocols.

In this uncertain time, as always, we are committed to communicate daily with vendors, customers and employees to ensure the high level of service and integrity the industry has come to recognize from Felker Brothers. As of now, our steel mill suppliers have indicated that they continue to operate with no disruption to scheduled deliveries.

We are currently maintaining deliveries into and out of our facilities while following all Center for Disease Control (CDC) protocols. To mitigate risk of COVID-19 spread, all non-essential travel to and from our facilities has been temporarily suspended. Any exception must have written prior approval from Felker Human Resources, and potential visitors will be required to fill out a health questionnaire.

Felker Brothers pledges to keep you fully informed with current and accurate information. Please visit our website <http://www.felkerbrothers.com/> and click on Industry News/Felker News for continued updates.

We ask you to join us in taking prudent action to keep our communities in the best of health. If you have any questions, please contact our office.

Best regards,

Tom Umhoefer
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
